HOUSING SERVICES ANTI SOCIAL BEHAVIOUR STRATEGY 2016 -2021 – A RESPECT ASB CHARTER FOR HOUSING

I am pleased to introduce Tendring District Council’s Life Opportunities Housing Services’ fourth Anti Social Behaviour Strategy for the next five years. Anti social behaviour can cause acute distress to those whose lives are affected by it and Housing Services takes this issue very seriously. As a social landlord, we know that providing a quality housing service goes beyond making sure that our properties are in good condition and that failing to tackle anti social behaviour can have a significant impact on communities.

Addressing the problem of anti social behaviour has been identified as a key priority for our tenants and leaseholders and we have used the findings of consultation with them as the focus of our strategy and worked with members of our Tenants Panel Anti Social Behaviour Sub Group in developing this document.

Over the last twelve years, since the introduction of our first Anti Social Behaviour Strategy, we have put in place a range of measures to tackle this problem and this strategy builds on these foundations. It also illustrates our ongoing commitment to tackle anti social behaviour and to ensuring that, with our colleagues and partners, we provide a co-ordinated and comprehensive approach.

2 Introduction

a) Corporate ASB policy statement

Tendring District Council ...reduce both the incidence and fear of crime and disorder and make Tendring a safer place to live, work and visit...

“...Tendring District Council recognises the need to tackle ASB as it can have a detrimental impact upon our residents, communities and visitors to the District. We will work in partnership with other agencies to support those experiencing ASB...”

b) Definition of Anti Social Behaviour

It is not always easy to pinpoint exactly what is, and what is not, ASB. People's judgement and tolerance may differ about what is acceptable behaviour. The Government defines ASB in the Crime and Disorder Act 1998 as: “ Behaviour by a person which causes or is likely to cause harassment, alarm or distress to one or more persons not of the same household as the perpetrator.”

In order to ensure that the Council provides the appropriate level of service to complainants the focus needs to be on those behaviour's that have a significantly negative impact on others' quality of life, but does not necessarily take the form of criminal behaviour such as drugs, criminal damage, assault etc. .In order to assist in determining whether a complaint meets the threshold, ASB includes, but is not limited to, the following:

- Being threatening, intimidating or verbally abusive
- Persistent nuisance behaviour
- Environmental issues including fly-tipping, vandalism, dog fouling, graffiti, fly posting etc.

Behaviour which results from different lifestyles or which would not generally be considered unreasonable is not ASB. As mentioned earlier it is important to be tolerant of other people's lifestyles.

c) Provision of Housing Service

In order to provide a quality housing service, we recognise that we must be effective in tackling antisocial behaviour and addressing the problems it creates. Anti social behaviour can be a destructive force within communities and the lives of significant numbers of our tenants, lessees and their families are blighted by the behaviour of an unreasonable minority. Anti social behaviour can also damage the sustainability of communities and adversely affect our ability to let our properties.

Anti social behaviour also creates an avoidable and unacceptable drain on staff and financial resources that could be channelled towards providing more beneficial services and improvements to our properties and their local environment.

This type of behaviour will not be tolerated and we will tackle it through a variety of approaches and interventions, including giving support to those perpetrators who are willing to change their behaviour.

d) Purpose of Strategy

This strategy seeks to:

- Identify our aims and objectives in relation to tackling anti social behaviour
- Identify the actions required to meet these aims and objectives
- Set out mechanisms for monitoring and reviewing our performance
- Represent a Charter for Housing ASB services, driving up performance in the prevention and in tackling anti-social behaviour (ASB)

This strategy is therefore central to our approach to maintain and enhance the quality of life for our tenants and leaseholders. It compliments the Council's Corporate ASB Strategy and builds upon the substantial work already undertaken by Housing Services in tackling this issue over the course of the previous four strategies.

There is also strong support from individual tenants and lessees for the Council continuing to take effective measures to tackle antisocial behaviour and this topic is high on the agenda of representative groups such as the Tenants Panel, Leaseholders and residents' groups...

e) Equalities Statement

In delivering this strategy, we will treat all of our customers fairly and will not unfairly or unlawfully discriminate against any person in any way on the grounds of race, colour, ethnic origin, nationality, gender, sexual orientation, disability, age, religious, political or other belief or status.

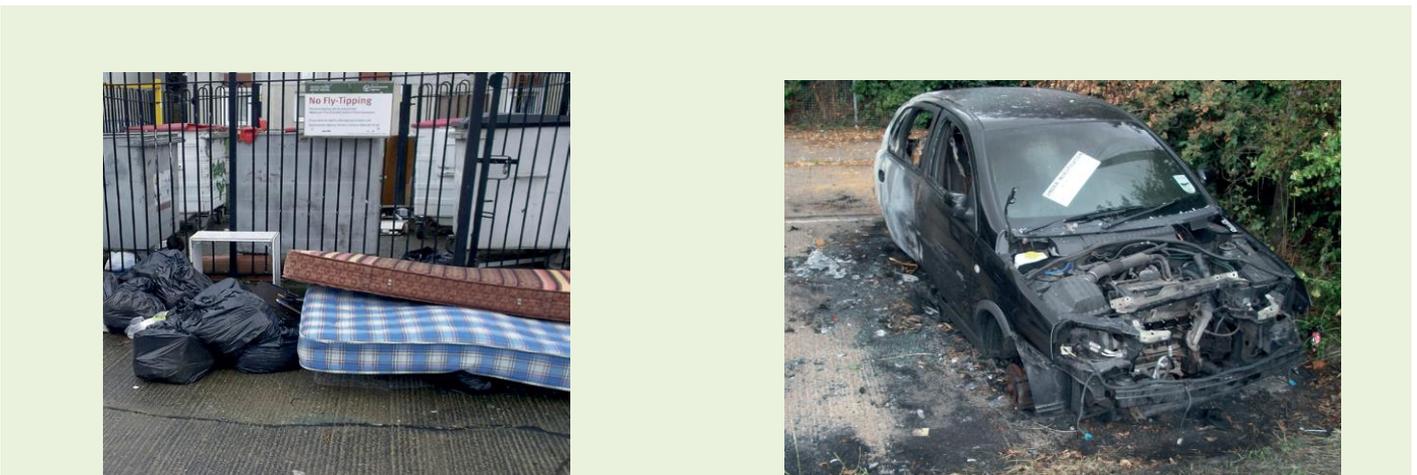

f) What is defined as anti social behaviour?

We accept that everyone has the right to lead different lifestyles providing they do not impinge upon their neighbours or cause a general or specific nuisance to others.

For the purpose of this strategy, antisocial behaviour is defined as: Conduct which –

- Is capable of causing nuisance or annoyance to any person; and
- Directly or indirectly relates to or affects housing management functions of a relevant landlord or;
- Consists of or involves using or threatening to use housing accommodation owned or managed by a relevant landlord for an unlawful purpose. (Anti-social Behaviour Act 2003, Anti Social Behaviour, Crime and Policing Act 2014)
- Any conduct (including speech) that causes, or is likely to cause, alarm or distress to one or more persons not of the same household (Crime & Disorder Act 1988, Anti Social Behaviour, Crime and Policing Act 2014)

- Unlawful interference with a person's use or enjoyment of their land or property, or with their health, comfort or convenience (private nuisance).
- Any act or omission which is a statutory nuisance as defined in the Environmental Protection Act 1990.
- Violence which may be verbal or physical and which includes attacks on property as well as on the person, suffered by individuals or groups because of their colour, race, nationality, ethnic or national origins when the victim believes that the perpetrator was acting on racial grounds and/or there is evidence of racism (racial harassment).
- Deliberate interference with the peace, comfort or safety of any person on grounds of race, colour, religion, sex, sexual preference, disability, ill health or age including incidents of graffiti, damage to property, abuse, threats or physical attacks (harassment).
- Behaviour which impacts negatively on residents' quality of life in and around their homes.

Examples of Anti Social Behaviour Include:

- Noise nuisance
- Vandalism and graffiti
- Intimidation and harassment
- Racial harassment and other hate behaviours that targets members of identified groups because of their perceived differences
- Abandoned vehicles and other vehicle related nuisance
- Using our properties to sell drugs or for any other illegal purpose
- Littering and fly tipping
- Untidy gardens

This list is not exhaustive and other types of behaviour may be classed as anti social and trigger enforcement action by us or another agency.

3 TENANT AND LEASEHOLDERS OBLIGATIONS

This strategy aims to ensure that tenants and leaseholders are able to enjoy their homes without interference or disturbance from anyone else. However, we also expect that our tenants and leaseholders will behave responsibly and reasonably towards their neighbours.

The obligations of tenants in respect to anti social behaviour are set out in the Council's Secure and introductory tenancy agreement and Temporary non-secure tenancy agreement. Revisions of these agreements, to include the following, are due to be introduced during 2016, following statutory consultation with our tenants and their representatives.

The below extract from these agreements details the specific requirements relating to anti social behaviour but these are also complimented by an extensive range of other conditions that prohibit or require certain behaviour.

Section 4 – Your responsibilities as a tenant

4.11 Illegal activity

- a) You must not use the property, its communal areas, any neighbouring areas or any garage that has been let to you for any criminal, illegal or immoral purpose.

Examples of this behaviour include but are not limited to:

- ◆ Selling, storing manufacturing or growing any illegal drugs or substances
- ◆ Prostitution
- ◆ Keeping illegal or unlicensed guns or weapons in the property
- ◆ Storing or handling stolen goods
- ◆ Dealing in illegal pornography
- ◆ Cyber crime
- ◆ Criminal damage
- ◆ Public order offences
- ◆ If you are convicted of such an offence in your home, its locality or anywhere in the Tendring district, this will represent a breach of this agreement.

4.12 Gang activity

- a) You must not be involved in gang related activity or violence, including using or threatening to use violence or verbally assaulting other people in the locality

4.13 Anti-social behaviour, nuisance and noise disturbance

- a) You are responsible for the behaviour of all people, including children, who live in or visit the property. You will be responsible for them in the property, in communal areas (stairs, entrance halls, gardens and parking areas) and in the locality (play areas, streets, community buildings and facilities and all other council estates in Tendring).
- b) You must not cause – or allow anyone living with you or visiting you to cause, or to act in a way likely to cause – a nuisance, annoyance or disturbance to anyone.

Examples of this behaviour include, but are not limited to:

- ◆ playing loud music or having loud parties
- ◆ shouting, screaming or swearing
- ◆ noisy DIY at unsocial hours
- ◆ loud arguments and /or fighting
- ◆ offensive and / or disruptive drunkenness
- ◆ dumping rubbish or furniture
- ◆ fly tipping
- ◆ slamming doors or banging on walls and ceilings
- ◆ allowing your dog(s) to bark persistently and / or cause a mess
- ◆ not keeping your pets under control
- ◆ playing ball games close to people's homes
- ◆ disruptive and / or intimidating loitering
- ◆ spraying or writing graffiti
- ◆ skateboarding and cycling in areas not designated for this purpose
- ◆ damaging or vandalising council property
- ◆ riding motorbikes, mopeds or quadbikes anywhere other than on the road
- ◆ extensive repairing of vehicles on estate roads or parking areas
- ◆ throwing items from windows or balconies
- ◆ jamming communal doors open and / or letting people into a communal area that do not have the right to be there
- ◆ using air rifles or other inappropriate or dangerous projectile or explosive devices within your home or locality

- c) You must comply with any Council notices that prohibit certain activities, for example playing of ball games or allowing dogs to foul.

4.14 Harassment and hate crime

- a) You, and those living with you or visiting you, must not do anything that could harass your neighbours or anyone in the locality, including our employees, agents and contractors for whatever reason. This includes harassment on the grounds of race, colour, ethnic origin, nationality, gender, sexual orientation, disability, age, religious, political or other belief that may interfere with their peace, comfort and convenience or cause offence. Examples of this behaviour include, but are not limited to:

- b)
- ◆ using or threatening to use violence against any person including our staff
 - ◆ unprovoked physical assaults
 - ◆ stalking, including cyber stalking
 - ◆ threatening or abusive behaviour
 - ◆ threatening or abusive letters, telephone calls or text messages
 - ◆ making false or malicious complaints about anybody
 - ◆ abusing and / or bullying or making malicious complaints through social media such as Facebook, Twitter, Instagram

4.16 Domestic violence and abuse

- a) You must not use threatening behaviour, violence or abuse (psychological, physical, sexual, financial or emotional) against any other person lawfully entitled to live in the property.
- a) You must not use violence, threats or intimidation towards any person to try to remove them from the tenancy or cause them to leave it.

The tenancy agreement is a legally binding contract between the Council and its tenant/s and we will take all reasonable steps to ensure that it is complied with, including the provision of detailed information about what is and what is not acceptable behaviour at the time the tenancy is first entered into.

The tenancy agreement also specifically prohibits tenants, or anyone acting on their behalf from using or threatening violence against any employee or representative of the Council.

LEASEHOLDERS

All Council leaseholders are bound by the covenants in their lease agreement. These prohibit causing a nuisance to neighbours and using the property in any illegal or immoral way.

4 STRATEGIC OBJECTIVES

Housing Services' Anti Social Behaviour Strategy follows the commitments of the RESPECT ASB charter for housing. This charter forms part of the original Government's Respect agenda (Respect Standard for Housing Management) which was a cross government strategy to tackle anti social behaviour and its causes.

ASB continues to be a key issue for landlords, tenants and communities and when the Housing Minister announced in January 2011 that the Standard would be passed from government to housing sector ownership the Chartered institute of Housing (CIH), Social Landlords Crime and Nuisance Group (SLCNG) and House Mark took over responsibility. After extensive consultation with over 500 signatory housing providers the current Charter was developed. This changed the Respect Standard for Housing Management to

The RESPECT ASB charter for housing is specifically aimed at social landlords to assist them in tackling anti social behaviour in their areas of operation and it is built around seven core commitments ensuring that a balanced approach to this problem is taken. The charter continues to be voluntary.

Housing Services first signed up to the Respect Standard for Housing Management in December 2009 and following review and self assessment in 2012 met all the necessary requirements for the new standard for delivery of a high quality ASB service.

Revision of this Strategy, in January 2016, has been based upon the RESPECT seven core commitments and can be found as Appendix A of this Strategy.

5 GUIDING PRINCIPLES AND POLICY STATEMENT

To achieve these objectives, we will

- Treat the needs, protection and support of victims and witnesses as paramount whilst at the same time being aware that the perpetrators of anti social behaviour, especially the young and vulnerable, may also require help.
- Work in partnership with our colleagues, tenants, leaseholders, other stakeholders and external agencies.
- Include measures to prevent and deter antisocial behaviour in other housing policies and strategies.
- Ensure that our measures to combat antisocial behaviour link with and contribute to the Council's Corporate Anti-Social Behaviour Policy 2016.
- Use all reasonable measures that are available to us as a landlord to tackle antisocial behaviour involving our tenants and others where their behaviour adversely impacts on Council housing or estates.
- Make contributing to tackling antisocial behaviour a key objective for each relevant section of the housing service.
- Aim to prevent crime and antisocial behaviour from occurring rather than relying on enforcement.
- Facilitate a holistic multi-agency approach to tackling antisocial behaviour.
- Take enforcement action that is proportionate to the seriousness of the antisocial behaviour that is encountered and recognise and uphold the Human Rights Act, Disability Discrimination Act, Children Act and Race Relations Act in relation to victims and perpetrators.
- Seek to identify and respect issues of equality and diversity and recognise groups and individuals with different or special needs.
- Where the victim believes that the antisocial behaviour was racially motivated, follow the code of practice for social landlords in tackling racial harassment...
- Seek to identify and act appropriately where there is evidence or suspicion of either safeguarding and/or domestic abuse concerns.
- Aim to intervene early in cases of antisocial behaviour and apply persuasive measures before formal or legal enforcement action is instigated.
- Acknowledge that our primary role is to provide good quality, decent and affordable housing and, in view of this, we will use eviction as a measure of last resort.
- Regularly monitor and publish details of our performance and review this strategy to incorporate changes to legislation or new powers made available to social landlord
- Review and publish our procedures for tackling anti social behaviour
- Comply with the Respect ASB Charter for Housing
- Make best and most appropriate use of current and new legislative powers of enforcement

6 ANTI SOCIAL BEHAVIOUR IN CONTEXT

National legislative context

Central Government has now created a comprehensive framework of legislation designed to tackle anti social behaviour, some of which is specific to Local Authorities and social landlords, aiming at equipping them with greater powers.

Anti Social Behaviour, Crime and Policing Act 2014

Injunction to prevent nuisance and annoyance (IPNA)

This is designed to stop or prevent individuals from engaging in anti-social behaviour before the behaviour escalates. A wide range of agencies can make use of these injunctions including councils, housing providers and the police. The IPNA can stop the offender from doing certain things and / or require them to do certain things, for example attending an anger management course or substance awareness sessions. Anyone breaching an IPNA would be dealt with as a civil contempt of court which, if proved, could lead to an unlimited fine or up to two years in prison. These do not come into force until January 2015.

Criminal behaviour order

This order can be issued by any criminal court against a person who has been convicted of an offence. Like the IPNA, the order can include a requirement that the individual stops doing something as well as a requirement for them to stop doing certain things. Breaching a Criminal Behaviour Order is a criminal offence.

Dispersal powers

This power can be used by the Police to disperse any anti-social individual to provide immediate and short term relief for the local community – up to 48 hours. The police can also confiscate any item that they believe has or may be used in anti-social behaviour. Officers must have reasonable grounds to suspect that the individual's behaviour is contributing to or is likely to contribute to members of the public being harassed, alarmed or distressed and that their removal will remove or reduce the likelihood of further anti-social behaviour.

Community protection notice

These are intended to deal with ongoing problems or nuisance that negatively affects a community's quality of life. For example, they can be used to tackle graffiti rubbish or noise and they can be issued against anyone over the age of 16, including a business or organisation. A Community Protection Notice can include a requirement to stop doing something, to start doing something or to take reasonable steps to avoid further anti-social behaviour. Breaching a Community Protection Notice is a criminal offence.

Public spaces protection order

These aim to deal with particular nuisance or problem in a specific location by imposing conditions on the use of that area that apply to everyone. For example this could include placing restrictions on the use of certain areas to prevent problems with the misuse of alcohol, dogs or noise. Breaching a Public Spaces Protection Order is a criminal offence.

Closure power

This power can be used to close premises that are causing nuisance or disorder to provide short term relief up to a maximum of 48 hours or it can be extended upon application to the magistrates courts for a period of up to six months. Breach of either a criminal notice or order is a criminal offence with the penalty being a prison sentence or unlimited fine.

Recovery of possession of dwelling house

This aims to speed up the possession process in cases where anti-social behaviour or criminality has already been proved in another court. Landlords will no longer have to prove that it is reasonable to grant possession but, instead, courts must grant possession if the landlord followed the correct procedure and at least one of the specified conditions is met.

Community Remedy

This aims to give victims a say in the out of court punishment of perpetrators of low level crime and anti-social behaviour.

Community trigger

A new community trigger will also give victims and communities the right to call for action when they feel an ASB issue has not been addressed and ensure it does not slip through the net.

People can make an application for a case review under these circumstances after three complaints of ASB in six months or one incident of hate crime. Where necessary a panel will be called together to review previous actions and propose an appropriate response.

Anti Social Behaviour Act 2003

This legislation broadened the powers and duties of social landlords by requiring them to publish their policies and procedures on anti social behaviour. It also extended the type of injunctions available to landlords and required courts to take better account of the ongoing impact of anti social behaviour on victims, witnesses and the wider community when dealing with applications for possession.

Housing Acts 1985 and 1996

These acts created new grounds for obtaining possession against anti social tenants responsible for nuisance or annoyance to others in the locality. The 1996 act also introduced an additional ground for possession against tenants convicted of an arrestable offence in the locality of the dwelling house and gave the power for social landlords to establish introductory tenancy schemes and to restrict the rehousing opportunities for people with a proven record of anti social activity.

Homelessness Act 2002

This places a duty on the Council and its partners to work together to prevent homelessness and it also sets out how those with a proven history of anti social behaviour may be treated less favourable if they then apply for council accommodation.

Housing Act 2004

This provided landlords with additional tools to tackle anti social behaviour by allowing them to extend introductory tenancies and withhold consent for secure tenants to mutually exchange. It also allowed landlords to suspend its obligations to complete a right to buy sale.

Other legislation:

In addition to the above specific legislation, there are a number of other acts that impact upon the approach to dealing with ASB

- Children's Act 1989
- Protection from Harassment Act 1997
- Race Relations Act 1976 and the Race Relations (Amendment) Act 2000
- Disability Discrimination Act 1995
- Human Rights Act 1998
- Data Protection Act and Freedom of Information Act 2000
- Environmental Protection Act 1990 and Noise and Statutory Nuisance Act 1993
- Police Reform Act 2002
- Crime and Disorder Act 1998

7 REGULATORY POLICIES AND FRAMEWORK

Housing and Regeneration Act 2008

Since April 2012 the regulation of social landlords moved from the Tenant Services Authority to a Regulatory Committee within the Homes and Community Agency, bringing some amendments to the standards. In April 2012 the Neighbourhood and Community Standard was issued requiring of providers Outcomes and Specific Expectations in the areas of :

- Estate and Neighbourhood Management
- Local Area Cooperation (Partnerships)
- Antisocial Behaviour

The Regulators Role

The Homes and Communities Agency's role is to regulate registered providers of social housing in England.

- Protect social housing assets
- Ensure providers are financially viable and properly governed
- Maintain confidence of lenders to invest into the sector
- Encourage and support supply of social housing
- Ensure tenants are protected and have opportunities to be involved in the management of their housing

RESPECT AGENDA

The Government originally launched its Respect agenda (charter) in 2006, which aimed to build upon existing legislation and previous initiatives to tackle anti social behaviour and its causes. The charter stated the key goal as being 'to empower individuals and communities, enabling them not to just to feel secure but to be more able to act together to make their neighbourhood safer and better'.

As part of this initiative, a Respect Standard for Housing Management was introduced, aimed at social landlords to recognise landlords who provide a good service and to give landlords who are trying to improve something to aim for.

In January 2011 the Respect Standard was passed from government to sector ownership, The Chartered Institute for Housing (CIH), Social Landlords Crime and Nuisance Group (SLCNG) and HouseMark took over control and administration and the Respect Standard for Housing Management was re-launched as – RESPECT – ASB charter for housing

Why do we need an ASB charter? Tackling ASB remains top of the list of issues that tenants care about we therefore need to ensure that the services that we provide are delivered effectively and efficiently.

Local Context To achieve success it is essential that Housing Services' Antisocial Behaviour Strategy is not viewed or operated in isolation. Measures to combat antisocial behaviour must link with and contribute to the Council's corporate and community priorities and other Housing Services' strategies, policies and practices.

Corporate Plan Tendring District Council's Corporate Plan 2016 -2020 sets out the challenges we need to tackle and the opportunities we seek to optimise for the good of our residents. Our priorities centre around our Community Leadership role, with a specific focus on Health and Housing- providing a quality living environment, promoting healthier lifestyles, enhancing wellbeing, Employment and Enjoyment – enhancing skills, providing jobs, delivering first rate leisure facilities, and Council and Community – good governance, partnership working, reducing inequalities, providing affordable excellent services.

Tendring Community Safety Partnership (CSP) All CSPs have been challenged to set, publicise and monitor progress against minimum standards on anti social behaviour.

The Crime and Disorder Act 1998 required CDRPs (now known as CSP's) to be set up in each District in England and Wales. The Act placed an obligation on local authorities and the police, (amongst others,) to work together to develop and implement a strategy to tackle crime and disorder in their area. The Police Reform Act 2002, Tendring District Council, Essex Police, Essex County Council, Police and Crime Commissioner's office, Essex Fire Authority, Essex Probation Service, North East Essex NHS and members of the voluntary sector have all been designated 'Responsible Authorities' and are held accountable for this work.

Together they have formed the Responsible Authorities Group to oversee the development of a crime and disorder reduction strategy for the Tendring district.

Objectives for 2016/2017

The Tendring CSP has identified Four Key Strategic themes to reduce crime and the fear of crime in the District and to improve community safety. These are –

Tackling Anti Social Behaviour – identifying and supporting repeat and vulnerable victims, improving perceptions and facilitating local problem solving

Protecting Vulnerable People (Crime and Fear of Crime) – identifying and supporting repeat and vulnerable victims. Clear emphasis on the emerging issue of gangs and youth violence, child sexual exploitation, preventing violent extremism, modern slavery and human trafficking.

Reducing drug and alcohol misuse within communities – clear emphasis on domestic abuse and alcohol drug related disorder

Reducing re-offending - a statutory duty for all community safety partnerships and thus supports the overarching theme for Safer Essex.

Further challenges recognised include Ending Gangs and Youth Violence, Child Sexual Exploitation, Domestic Abuse, Immigration Crime and Exploitation of Vulnerable Persons.

A key success to the many local and community Initiatives being undertaken is the Community Hub Tasking Group. This multi agency Hub led by the CSP and Essex Police enables initiatives that directly contribute to the reduction and awareness of crime in the Tendring.

Tendring District Strategic Assessment 2016 – Tendring Community Safety Partnership.

Protection of Children and Vulnerable Adults One of the strategic themes is to 'Reduce crime and disorder committed against and by young and vulnerable people '

The Housing Antisocial Behaviour Strategy aims to contribute towards all of these objectives in relation to the Councils housing stock and estates

8 WORKING IN PARTNERSHIP

Working in partnership is essential if anti social behaviour is going to be tackled effectively and the Respect ASB Charter for Housing strongly emphasises the need for this

As well as this strategy linking to other corporate strategies and plans, we have taken steps to ensure that we are proactively involved in partnerships that help us to tackle anti social behaviour and its causes via a multi agency approach.

Tendring District Council is also active members of ARCH (Association of Retained Council Housing) which is an association of Councils in England (about 100 LA's) who have retained ownership and management of their council homes.

There are more than 800,000 homes still owned and managed by Local Authorities and ARCH make sure that they represent those local authorities and negotiate the best deals for their tenants and ensure a positive future for council housing is secured.

Involving tenants and leaseholders We are committed to involving our tenants and leaseholders in the delivery of our services and have established a range of ways to facilitate their involvement that are reviewed annually.

The main involvement mechanism is our Tenants Panel and they have contributed to, agreed and monitored performance in relation to the previous Anti Social Behaviour Strategies. Prior to the review of this strategy, the Tenants Panel elected a number of representatives to form the Anti Social Behaviour Sub Group whose members have had a significant role in the development of this strategy and the self assessment carried out in relation to the RESPECT ASB Charter for housing...

In addition to the role and involvement of the Tenants Panel, we carry out the required STAR survey every two years and have carried out during the course of each previous strategy a dedicated crime and anti social behaviour survey. Surveys are also sent to all tenants ending council tenancies to establish their reasons for this as well as to all who report complaints of anti social behaviour to assess their satisfaction with the service provided. We use the findings from all of these feedback mechanisms to shape and improve our service and to identify any trends.

Other partners to the Strategy As well as working closely with tenants and leaseholders, we are also committed to working in partnership with other stakeholders and recognise that this is essential if anti social behaviour is going to be tackled effectively. The Respect ASB Charter for Housing also highlights the need for partnership working. By working together we can achieve more and reinforce the message that anti social behaviour is taken seriously and that action will be taken to tackle this. Partnership working takes place at an individual case level as well as at operational and strategic levels.

Our key partners include other Council departments, such as Environmental Services, Community Safety Partnership and external agencies such as Essex Police, Fire & Rescue Service, Social Services, NHS Mental Health Team, Victim Support and other social landlords within the District.

To assist the arrangements for working in partnership, we have:

- Identified and agreed partners from within other Council departments, engaged in consultation about how best to utilise their services and expertise and where appropriate agreed protocols on joint working and service level agreements.
- Identified and agreed external partners, engaged in consultation and agreed protocols on joint working including entering a data sharing protocol with Essex Police and other social landlords

- Held joint training sessions and workshops attended by officers, tenant representatives with other partners and agencies such as the Police.
- Worked with other social landlords and agencies through membership of the multi agency Community Hub

9 HOW DO WE DEAL WITH COMPLAINTS OF ANTI SOCIAL BEHAVIOUR?

Our Tenancy Management team, are primarily responsible for dealing with complaints of anti social behaviour and all incidents are recorded on our ASB case management system. Complaints are recorded in different categories according to the nature and seriousness of the complaint. A full breakdown of these recorded categories can be found on pages 33-35 of this document.

Whilst each case will require a tailored and proportionate response there are up to six strands of activity that need to be considered/followed in tandem to ensure investigations are thorough and effective.

- Risk Assessment Matrix (RAM)
- Evidence collation and statement taking
- Tenancy Enforcement
- Interventions
- ASB Enforcement
- Partner Agency liaison / Community Safety Hub Referral

The Tenancy Management Team structure is –

We aim to improve the safety, environment and living conditions of our tenants and leaseholders and their families by combating antisocial behaviour and racial harassment and implementing measures that address the causes of anti social behaviour and the problems it creates.

- To do this we will...
- ◆ Interview or visit all new tenants to make sure that they understand the conditions of their tenancy agreement that relate to the care of their home and the behaviour of themselves, their family or visitors to their property.
 - ◆ Upon receipt of every complaint we will seek to obtain good quality information from the complainant and ensure any potential vulnerability issues are identified by completing a risk assessment.
 - ◆ Treat complainants sympathetically, take all complaints seriously and in the first instance always assume that the complaint is justifiable.

- ◆ Treat any complaint in a confidential manner, and keep any information provided confidential unless consent is obtained to do otherwise.
- ◆ Acknowledge and respond to complaints in writing within 10 working days (or in appropriate cases by telephone within 24 hours or e mail within 5 working days), and provide a unique reference number, which will be used to identify the complaint in any correspondence throughout the investigation.
- ◆ If a complaint requires a personal visit by an officer we will respond in accordance with the following priorities and time scales:

For serious behaviour where there is considered to be an immediate threat of violence for major disorder – Within 1 working day.

For behaviour of a serious nature affecting more than one other property or having serious impact upon an individual tenant – within 7 working days.

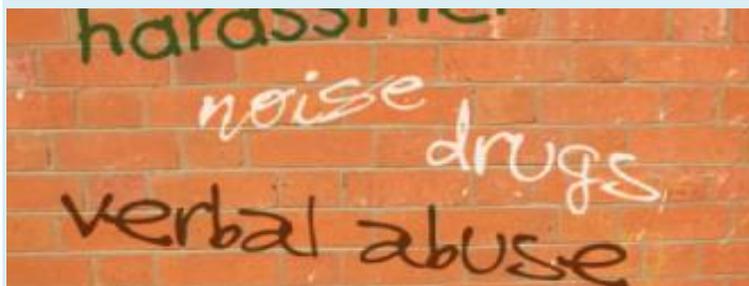

For less serious behaviour amounting to neighbour or general nuisance – within 14 working days.

For other less serious behaviour or minor breaches of the tenancy agreement that require officer intervention – within 21 working days.

- ◆ Clearly inform complainants how we intend to deal with their complaint and tell them of the measures that are available to resolve their complaint and provide a realistic expectation of the likely outcome.
- ◆ Keep complainants fully informed of progress at appropriate stages in the investigation and on completion, or advise them if no further action can be taken.
- ◆ Be sensitive and supportive and offer assistance to complainants who act as witnesses.
- ◆ In appropriate cases seek reconciliation by offering independent mediation.
- ◆ Provide complainants with an opportunity to comment on the action taken to resolve their complaint and the outcome.
- ◆ Follow the Code of Practice for Social Landlords on Tackling Racial Harassment.

We also request that those reporting anti social behaviour comply with the following:

- ◆ Not retaliating to any incident of antisocial behaviour to which they may be subjected.
- ◆ Keep an accurate record/nuisance diary to include the date, time, nature and consequences of any incident including the names of any witnesses.
- ◆ Report crime, serious antisocial behaviour or vandalism to the Police at the time it is occurring or discovered, or as soon as possible and obtain an incident number.
- ◆ Follow any advice that is given.
- ◆ Act as a witness, if necessary, in any legal action that we take.
- ◆ Let us know if we fail to meet any of our standards.

We constantly strive to improve the services we provide but it is sometimes difficult to meet the expectations of those who report anti social behaviour to us both about the action that is available to us and the length of time that this may take.

10 ENFORCEMENT AND INTERVENTION OPTIONS TO TACKLE ANTI SOCIAL BEHAVIOUR

Due to the high profile of anti social behaviour at a national level, there are a range of tools and powers available to social landlords to deal with anti social behaviour. Legislation has been enacted specifically to provide landlords with the powers, either individually, or in partnership with other agencies, primarily the Police, to combat crime and disorder that occurs within their stock and to tackle wider issues of nuisance and anti-social behaviour. All of our Tenancy Management Officers hold BTEC Level 3 Advanced Award in Neighbourhood Nuisance and Anti Social Behaviour Case Working. The Qualification covers -

- Information and data exchange
- Tools and powers, investigation and evidence gathering
- Interviewing, note taking and statement writing
- Instructing legal teams and giving evidence in court

Summary of the tools and powers that are currently available and used

- Exclusions and ineligibility from Housing List
- Introductory tenancies
- Tenancy Demotion
- Tenancy agreement and terms
- Mediation
- Acceptable Behaviour Contracts
- Mutual exchange refusal
- Suspension of the Right to Buy
- Injunctions for anti social behaviour
- Possession proceedings and eviction
- Family Intervention Projects
- Criminal Behaviour Order (CBO)
- Dispersal Powers
- Community Protection Notice (CPN)
- Public Spaces Protection Orders (PSPOs)
- Closure Power

Our approach is to use the more formal enforcement measures, particularly possession proceedings, as tools of last resort in circumstances where other measures have been exhausted or where the situation is so serious that an immediate response is required.

In addition to the action that we can take, the Council's Environmental Service has powers to take action in respect of noise nuisance and flytipping and we will refer appropriate cases to them for enforcement action to be taken.

Where appropriate and in consultation with the Tenants Panel, approval will be sought from the Housing Portfolio Holder to introduce revised policies enabling the swift implementation of any additional powers or measures made available to social landlords by future legislation.

A guiding principle of this strategy will be to consider the use of all reasonable measures available to landlords to combat antisocial behaviour. However, this aim will need to be tempered by using only those measures, especially enforcement action, that are proportionate to both the extent and seriousness of the antisocial behaviour and that as a small housing authority the Council can afford to resource.

Constraints on financial and staffing resources and the size of the Council's housing stock will not permit unbridled use of all the measures, all of the time. This approach accepts that because of limited staffing and financial resources there may be occasions when the full range of measures available will not be able to be used.

TACKLING TENANCY FRAUD

Case study 1 : Sub letting leads to eviction

Working in partnership with staff in our Council tax team , we became aware that one of our tenants had left their property in Clacton and allowed someone else to move in (unauthorised sub-letting). We started an investigation and, following numerous failed attempts to speak to either the original tenant or the new unauthorised occupant, we served a Notice of Seeking Possession, which is the first step in the legal process to evict someone. At the subsequent court hearing, we were awarded Forthwith Possession of the property as well as our court costs.

This meant that we were able to force entry into the property, change the locks and, following minor works and safety checks, the property was able to be re let.

This case is a good example of working in partnership with other staff across the Council to identify and take action against those who break the terms of their tenancy agreement.

If you suspect tenancy fraud, please contact us on Tel 01255 686488 or email HousingASB@tendringdc.gov.uk |

All information provided is treated with the strictest of confidence.

YOU CAN'T HIDE

Case study 2 : Equipment seized from noisy neighbour

Over a period of several months, neighbours reported various disturbances and excessively loud music coming from a property and, despite several formal warnings being issued, there was no improvement in the tenant's behaviour.

Working with the neighbours, we collected evidence of the noise nuisance and passed this over to colleagues in Environmental Services, who deal with complaints about noise, and they issued an abatement notice to stop the nuisance.

The tenant failed to take any notice of this and so a further order was obtained to gain access to the property and seize all noise making equipment. The items taken away included two large TVs, one portable TV, a stereo system, amplifier, pc and speakers, Xbox 360 and a portable radio cassette.

We also started to take action against the tenant for breaking their tenancy agreement and they subsequently decided to give up their tenancy before they went to court.

12 POLICIES AND PROCEDURES

To support the implementation of its antisocial behaviour strategy it is a key priority that the Housing Service should regularly review and publish its policies and procedures for responding to, investigating and resolving complaints, of nuisance or antisocial behaviour.

The Antisocial Behaviour Act 2003 also introduced section 218A of the Housing Act 1996 which places a legal duty on Local Authority landlords to carry out this process.

In accordance with these regulations the Council's Housing Service first published its statement and summary of policies and procedures on the dedicated ASB section of the Housing web site in December 2004.

The revised procedures included service standards that relate to the following:

- Providing a variety of straight-forward means by which complaints of antisocial behaviour can be submitted and information provided including that relating to racially motivated incidents;
- Setting and publishing standards for categorising, recording and monitoring complaints of antisocial behaviour;
- Setting and publishing response times for appropriate stages of the investigation process and referral for action;
- Standardisation of letters and forms; and compliance with plain language standards;
- An appraisal of measures available for differing types of nuisance or antisocial behaviour and the anticipated time scale thereof;
- Assistance and measures in support of witnesses;
- Target action and out comes.

It is proposed that a review of the policy, procedures and the service provided to tenants reporting nuisance or antisocial behaviour will be carried out to coincide with the implementation of this revised Housing Antisocial Behaviour strategy.

The revised policy, procedures and service standards will be published on the dedicated Housing ASB section of the Council's Web site and in the dedicated ASB tenant newsletter.

Subsequent reviews will be undertaken if there are significant changes in legislation or operational procedures.

13 DELIVERING THE STRATEGY

Resources

The current staffing resources available to implement the antisocial behaviour strategy rest primarily with the Housing Service but are supplemented by staff in other Council departments who are predominantly specialist in nature, for example Solicitor, Environmental Health Officer, Building Surveyor etc.

The staff in the Housing Service is under the direct control and direction of the Corporate Director for Life Opportunities. Other key staffs outside the department are either engaged on a quasi consultant basis (Technical or Solicitor etc.) or offer services direct to the public which should include and be equally accessible to Council tenants and lessees. Either in-house or external contractors carry out other prime services such as, removal of abandoned vehicles, dog warden and pest control services, cleaning of graffiti, estate and communal cleaning and ground maintenance.

The section that primarily deals with tackling antisocial behaviour within the Housing Service is Tenancy Management which, consists of the Housing Manager, Senior Tenancy Management Officer, two area Tenancy Management Officers, a Trainee Tenancy Management Officer and Apprentice.

As well as carrying out investigative, evidence gathering and enforcement duties to tackle antisocial and nuisance behaviour, these housing staff also carry out a full range of other estate and tenancy management duties. including; transfer and termination inspections, signing up new tenants, estate inspections, communal cleaning and risk management administration and inspection, administration of the garage waiting lists, the letting and repair of garages, the administration of non-operational leased assets and property and land management services.

The Council also has a Corporate Community Safety Partnership Team (CSP). The CSP team form a strategic focus for tackling crime and disorder through the Council's corporate crime reduction and community safety strategies and policies and its statutory membership of the Crime Reduction Partnership.

On a day to day basis the CSP Team is a means of information sharing for the Housing Service and enables an additional route for joint working with other external partners and stakeholders, primarily the police. Strategically the Housing Service's functions in tackling antisocial behaviour within the Council's own stock and the Housing Antisocial Behaviour Strategy link with and contribute to, corporate crime reduction measures.

The extent of the staff resource available to implement the antisocial behaviour strategy is constrained by the size of the Council and the number of housing staff justified by the size of the housing stock.

The aim is therefore to implement a strategy that makes best and most efficient use of the existing staff resources and operates within current financial constraints. Also wherever possible, to implement measures to prevent antisocial behaviour from occurring before enforcement becomes necessary.

Provision will also continue to be made from within existing resources to train staff and tenant representatives to ensure that they are fully aware of measures available for tackling antisocial behaviour and good practice carried out elsewhere locally and at governmental level. This process will include continuing membership of benchmarking organisations.

Monitoring, evaluation and reviewing

We are committed to involving our tenants and tenant representatives in setting measurable targets and monitoring and reviewing our performance in achieving them. We will also ensure that our performance against the targets set is published in a variety of media.

Performance against the key objectives of the Housing Antisocial Behaviour Strategy will be submitted for review on a biannual basis by members of the Anti Social Behaviour Sub Group and annually for review by the Tenants Panel. Details will also be provided by the dedicated anti social behaviour newsletter that is produced annually for the wider tenant population.

The Tenants Performance and Scrutiny Panel will be responsible for reviewing performance against agreed local performance indicators across the whole range of Housing Services but will involve members of the Anti Social Behaviour Sub Group as appropriate.

In relation to its performance on dealing operationally with complaints of nuisance or antisocial behaviour the Housing Service will identify quantitative data regarding activity and qualitative data, by measuring individual tenant satisfaction in the manner in which complaints about antisocial behaviour have been dealt with and the outcome.

It is recognised however, that good qualitative performance may be more difficult to demonstrate because antisocial behaviour cases are often complex and levels of satisfaction are often subjective and based on the complainant's expectations, which are not always reasonably achievable in terms of time scale or outcome.

Qualitative performance information will also be obtained through the programme of reality checks and tenant led inspections to be introduced as one of the actions of this strategy.

Performance in tackling antisocial behaviour will be monitored monthly in the Housing Service "Management Information Return" and targets and performance will be included in the Personal Performance plans of individual officers and discussed at regular appraisals.

Performance on combating antisocial behaviour will be measured using the following indicators which were agreed by members of the Tenants Performance and Scrutiny and will be subject to bi annual monitoring by this group

Qualitative Performance Indicators

Agreed Targets for 2016/17

|--|------------|
| L.S 9 Complaints involving anti social behaviour closed as resolved as a percentage of live cases where the officer can demonstrate that the outcome was satisfactory relative to reasonable expectations | 90% |

Additional means of monitoring

We will also use the information that we receive from the mandatory biannual STAR (Housemark- survey of tenants and residents) to monitor our performance in relation to the following:

- Satisfaction with area as a place to live
- Percentage reporting anti social behaviour in the 12 months prior to the survey
- Satisfaction with various aspects of the service we provide, including the advice and support provided, speed with which the complaint was dealt with and the final outcome

How many complaints of anti social behaviour do we deal with during 1 April 2014 to 31 March 2015

Housing Services Tenancy Management dealt with 578 recorded complaints and the type of complaints that they dealt with are illustrated below:

| | 2014/2015 | (2013/14) |
|---------------------|-----------|-----------|
| Abandoned vehicles | 4 | 2 |
| Alcohol related | 0 | 6 |
| Communal areas | 138 | 120 |

| Verbal Abuse | 46 | 44 |
| Vandalism | 24 | 22 |
| Vehicle Nuisance | 21 | 31 |
| Totals | 578 | (725) |

In addition to the investigation of complaints the Tenancy Management Team –

Visited and interviewed 86% of all new tenants within the first two weeks of their tenancy to make sure that they are aware of the conditions of their tenancy agreement and the action that would be taken if they break these. It took a bit longer to visit or interview the remaining 14 %.

Entered into 2 Acceptable Behaviour Contracts with Tenants.

Referred 5 neighbour disputes for formal mediation.

Referred 20 cases to floating support or other support or care agencies.

Referred 19 cases to Environmental Health for joint investigation into cases.

Issued 18 Notices of Seeking Possession against those who continued to break the terms of their tenancy agreement despite warning from us- this is the first step in the legal process to evict someone.

Evicted 3 households who continued to break the terms of their agreement with us.

Overall 76 % of tenants who responded to our annual satisfaction survey said that they were very or fairly satisfied with the way we handle antisocial behaviour.

1, We demonstrate leadership and strategic commitment

There is strong leadership, corporate commitment and accountability about preventing and tackling ASB. This is embedded throughout our business and across key partners

How we evidenced this in our self assessment in January 2016

Housing Services have had a Housing Anti-Social Behaviour Strategy (HASBS) in place since 2003 Following revision in 2008 and 2010; we are now in the process of introducing a new revised 5 year strategy for 2016 -2021. This new ASB Strategy for the council's housing services is accompanied with a 5 year target and action plan as agreed with tenant representatives and other linked agencies.

The purpose of this self assessment review is to accompany the introduction in 2016 of the new Strategy document and will be formally signed by the Council Member holding the portfolio for Housing Services and the Chair of our Tenant and Leaseholders Panel.

The formal introduction of the new five years ASB Strategy for 2016 -2021 demonstrates our commitment to tackling and preventing nuisance and ASB in our council estates and communities.

The strategy contains clear strategic and associated targets for tackling ASB which were developed in consultation with tenants, leaseholders and representatives from other agencies.

The Housing Anti Social Behaviour Strategy (HASBS) is not viewed or operated in isolation - it links to and contributes to the Council's Corporate and community priorities as well as other Housing Services strategies and policies, including Housing Allocation Policy and Homelessness Strategy.

Our commitment to tackling ASB is promoted through our annual ASB newsletter as well as via our website and editions of Tending Reports. Our performance against the items included in the associated action plans are also reported on a regular basis to the Tenants Panel and to all tenants and leaseholders.

A restructured and dedicated Tenancy Management Team are primarily responsible for dealing with complaints of ASB and nuisance and, through regular estate/ block inspections and visits, are able to identify potential nuisance and take proactive action to prevent ASB occurring.

Housing Services subscribes to a number of organisations, including Respect, ARCH, Housemark, Housing Quality Network, CIH Practice Online which enable ongoing reference to best practice and innovative approaches.

Measurable local targets have been set in connection with ASB and these are monitored through monthly management information reports.

Several actions have been included in previous strategies to ensure that Housing Services have robust policies in place towards abuse towards staff, Members and Tenant representatives in delivering their functions (e.g. CCTV covering reception and interview rooms, the issuing of personal alarms for front line staff, detailed policy of measures to protect staff and procedure for taking action against those who have threatened, assaulted or abused staff or elected members). Relevant cases have also been published via our dedicated ASB newsletter.

Members of the Tenancy Management Team have a good working relationship with other agencies, including The Community Safety Partnership Hub, Police, Adult Social Care, ESCB, Mental Health Social Care, floating support as well as a number of representatives from other partner organisations have also given presentations to members of the Tenants Panel.

2,We provide an accessible and accountable service

All our tenants can easily report ASB and access the service. Tenants are provided with useful and timely information and are actively encouraged to influence how we deliver the service

How we evidenced this in our self assessment in January 2016

Customers can report ASB in a variety of ways, including a dedicated phone number, email address, website forms, in person and in writing. Website has translation facility. Out of hour 24 hour service is provided through the Careline service.

Tenants are involved in setting local priorities, for example through feedback from crime and ASB survey, STAR survey, ASB incidents feedback surveys and through detailed involved of Tenants Panel and their elected ASB representatives.

A dedicated newsletter is produced each year to inform tenants and leaseholders of the action that has been taken re ASB, and a section on ASB is also included in the annual report. This also publicises the use of enforcement tools through the use of case studies and informs tenants how they can report ASB as well as how their complaint will be responded to.

Information about ASB is provided through newsletters, leaflets, website and through face to face interviews with tenants. Information can also be produced / provided in alternative formats to make sure that no one is excluded.

Feedback is regularly provided to tenants on our ASB performance. Satisfaction surveys are regularly carried out. The priorities identified through these surveys and others are also taken into account in determining what action to take, in conjunction with members of the Tenants Panel and ASB sub group.

We have a dedicated ASB Group made up of Council Officers and Tenants to ensure that our policies and procedures provide positive results.

We carry out census type surveys to analyse make up of our tenants and their issues.

3, We take swift action to protect communities

We take prompt, appropriate and decisive action to deal with ASB before it escalates. In doing so, we adopt a problem-solving approach and have regard to the full range of tools and legal powers available

How we evidenced this in our self assessment in January 2016

Our tenancy agreement has been recently revised and drawn up in consultation with a specialist solicitor and takes account of the OFT guidance on unfair tenancy terms. This agreement includes robust clauses re the responsibilities of tenants and the action that will be taken if they breach their agreement. The revised tenancy agreement also takes into account changes in legislation and enforcement powers available, primarily the Anti Social Behaviour, Crime and Policing Act 2014

Our Tenancy Sign up procedure provides clear explanation of what behaviour is expected from tenants and what will happen if the terms of their agreement is not kept to, as well as providing details of the Council's responsibilities and obligations.

Introductory tenancies have been implemented as a new powerful tool to take action against those tenants that commit ASB.

We hold regular meeting with Neighbourhood Policing Teams within the Tendring area to exchange information and to arrange action plans to tackle those committing ASB. These meetings result in joint visits to the perpetrators of ASB.

Targets have been set for the removal of graffiti and fly tipped material.

Complainants are updated a minimum of every two weeks as their case progresses and are consulted prior to their case being closed.

4, We encourage individual and community responsibility

We work with community groups and partners to promote tolerance and responsibility amongst our tenants and the wider community

How we evidenced this in our self assessment in January 2016

We have pre-purchased a number of mediation cases and the use of mediation has helped us successfully resolve a number of cases. For the year 2014/2015 we referred five cases to independent mediation

We promote tenant and leasehold ownership and have an established Customer Involvement Register which gives tenants the opportunity to identify if they want to be involved in walkabouts which would enable ASB hotspots and environmental problems to be identified. Walkabouts also provide the ability for neighbourhoods to identify small scale improvement works for their community which are funded through locally determined environmental improvement budgets.

A satisfaction survey is sent to every complainant who reports a problem of ASB following the closure of every case. The results of these surveys are recorded and regularly reported back to our tenants and leaseholders.

A procedure is in place to provide a letter of commendation / certificate to tenants who have taken a stand against ASB.

Our satisfaction surveys provide us with information on performance against all recorded complaints (Closed Resolved and Closed Unresolved). We use the Respect core indicators and a number of discretionary indicators. This includes satisfaction by case handling, outcome, and type of ASB, area, officer.

5, We adopt a supportive approach to working with victims and witnesses

Our approach to case working demonstrates a strong focus on identifying and minimising risk – Our Tenancy Management Officers are experienced and qualified ASB case workers

How we evidenced this in our self assessment in January 2016

Dedicated procedures exist for responding to racial incidents and published advice is available for those that experience hate crime

Appropriate employees have received relevant training and all Tenancy Management Officers have completed a minimum of BTEC Level 3 Advanced Award (Neighbourhood Nuisance and Anti Social Behaviour Case Working).

Our monthly survey throughout 2014/15 showed that an average of 76% of respondents were satisfied or better with the way we dealt with their ASB complaint and 70% of respondents were satisfied or better with the outcome (resolution) of their complaint

All relevant staff is aware of the procedures that should be followed when investigating any complaint and the appraisal and case study sessions held enable any development needs to be identified, addressed and monitored.

Although it is rare that a witness has had to attend court, procedures are in place to ensure that, in the event of this, full explanations and support are given and that appropriate liaison is carried out with court services.

Witness support package / measures are in place, in conjunction with other agencies. Liaison takes place with the Crime Reduction Officer and Police Domestic Violence unit as and when necessary re any required target hardening measures (e.g. panic alarms and fire proof letter boxes).

Comprehensive witness support package is provided and there is a protocol in place to enable the sharing of information. Procedures are in place to support this e.g.: fleeing violence, management transfers and vulnerable person's referral policy.

A 'victims come' first approach has been adopted in the HASBS and is reflected in operational procedures and has been publicised together with a requirement to be mindful of the needs of perpetrators as well.

All complaints are recorded on a dedicated ASB case management system and responded to in accordance with specified service standard. All complaints are given a unique reference number and are sent a plan of action and a clear timescale for responding to complaints of ASB. The case management processes enable the most appropriate intervention to be identified and implemented. The case management system enables monitoring of response times, categories of ASB recorded, locations etc.

Witnesses are updated a minimum of every two weeks as their case progresses and are consulted prior to their case being closed.

6, We have a clear focus on prevention and early intervention.

We use a range of early intervention techniques to prevent ASB from escalating.

How we evidenced this in our self assessment in January 2016

Numerous planned maintenance and improvement schemes have / are implemented to prevent and deter ASB - key strategic objective of HASBS (environmental improvement schemes, installation of high performance security communal entrance doors etc.) And their contribution to combating ASB and crime is identified to tenant representatives when Housing Investment Programmes (HIP) programmes are agreed. A programme to install CCTV and associated security measures has also been completed to help reassure residents.

In 2014 the second phase of improvement and enhancement works were completed at Churchill Court Harwich. These extensive improvements provided external CCTV across the estate, a recreation /play area for children and a community garden project. There are further improvements scheduled for the future.

Information / references are exchanged with other housing providers in relation to nominations for housing inside or outside the district.

Consultation takes place with Essex Police and Community Safety Partnership in connection with appropriate planned improvement schemes (e.g. environmental improvements)

Our revised tenancy agreement was drawn up in consultation with a specialist solicitor and takes account of the OFT guidance on unfair tenancy terms. This agreement includes robust clauses re the responsibilities of tenants and the action that will be taken if they breach their agreement. The revised tenancy agreement also takes into account changes in legislation and enforcement powers available, primarily the Anti Social Behaviour, Crime and Policing Act 2014

The sign up procedure provides clear explanation of what behaviour is expected from tenants and what will happen if the terms of their agreement is not kept to, as well as providing details of the Council's responsibilities and obligations.

Introductory Tenancies have been introduced as a new early intervention tool to take action against those tenants that commit ASB.

Acceptable Behaviour Contracts (ABC's) are regularly used in partnership with Essex Police as an early intervention tool.

Procedures and referral mechanisms are in place for dealing with vulnerable residents for example referral to floating support and other relevant agencies to work with tenants to stop ASB and sustain their tenancy.

For the period 2014/2015 Two Acceptable Behaviour Contracts were drawn up and a further twenty cases were referred to Floating Support and other Support Agencies.

It is estimated that there are 320 families in Tendring that have complex needs. Family intervention projects are in operation and referral processes in place.

From the Essex Family prototypes, the National Troubled Families' programme and the Public Service Transformation (previously Whole Essex Community Budgets), partners across Essex have developed Family Solutions: multidisciplinary/agency family teams that work with families with multiple needs intensively on a voluntary basis.

Tenants are advised that enforcement action will be considered where suitable offers of support are refused and their behaviour does not improve.

7, We ensure that a value for money approach is embedded in our service.

We can demonstrate a strong focus in securing efficiency and effectiveness by balancing cost and quality

How we evidenced this in our self assessment in January 2016

Value for money goals have been introduced in staff appraisals.

Our case management system allows us to monitor trends for most common ASB and to identify savings.

We have revised our satisfaction surveys to provide us with information on performance against all recorded complaints (Closed Resolved and Closed Unresolved). We use the Respect core indicators and a number of discretionary indicators. This includes satisfaction by case handling, outcome, and type of ASB, area, officer. The performances are benchmarked.

We are recording referrals to other agencies so we can have a better record of their success.

We use an evidence based approach to ASB budgets. Dedicated ASB preventative budget and an Estate Management budget.

We pre-purchase a set number of cases from an independent Community Mediation Service. We are currently reviewing their success and potential alternatives available through restorative justice initiatives. Staff are trained in mediation techniques so that the referral resource is only used in specific cases.

We have reviewed our use of legal services and in house training has reduced the need for legal services. Court attendances are now housing officer only, except for complex cases.
